

An example of how Organization Mapping works

EXECUTE

Once the Org. Map is constructed, it can be used to build a new, ... and/or test an existing, ... Resource Loaded schedule in "MS Project", PertMaster or "P5"

Project Planning & Interface Map

Organizational Function
Key or Critical Organizational Functions

Legend:
 A: Approves the Organizational Function has been achieved, and / or sets the performance criteria.
 R: Is Responsible for causing the Organizational Function to be achieved, leads the effort. (In Accountable to "A")
 S: Supports "R" as a team member in doing Work or Consultation, to achieve the Organizational Function

Ask Why? (The Goal) → In Constructing & Reading the "Project P & I Map," one looks at any given Organization Function, and asks of that Function ...
 • "How do we?" ... and on the Right should be the answer: another function which is the Method &
 • "Why do we?" ... and on the Left should be the answer: another function which is the Goal.

Ask How? (The Method)

- Major Opportunity to Improve (Capex, Schedule, Documentation)
- Org. Functions which are of concern with respect to RISK.
- Org. Functions which will be addressed in Peer Assists.

Icons:
 Milestones (Triangle), Peer Assist (PA), Peer Review (PR)

File: OOC Org Map.vsd Last Edit: 2/27/2007 4:48 PM

Mngmt & Core Team:
1	Gatekeeper:	Mike Elgin
2	Project General Manager:	George Ott
3	Business Developer:	Nathan Ray
4	Project Champion:	Darrell Mayon
5	Project Manager:	Damon Thompson/ Monty Carbonell/ Dave Pikula
6	Operations Representative:	Joe Cappa
7	Head of Projects
Extended Team:
11	Construction:	Dave Buss
12	Compliance & Permitting	Joe Zotter
13	HSSE	Ron Oakley
14	Right-of-Way:	Dave Sommerfeld
15	Operations Support	Roy Mitchell
16	Project Control	Ian Webster/ Joe Randall
17	Engineering:	UEI/ Jeff Watson
18	Commercial:	Willbros/ Ken Gowliuk & Dave Stanley
19	FC&A:
20	Legal:
21	Operations Control Center
22	Procurement

© 2004 Pinnacle Results LLC. All rights reserved. This product, and any parts thereof, may not be reconstructed or reproduced in any form for any location outside of the location for which the product has been licensed without direct written permission from Pinnacle Results LLC.

Pinnacle Results LLC
 Decision & Value Management

James D. McCuish
 Partner

Corporate Office
 Sugar Land, Texas

Phone: 832-794-2028
 Fax: 877-232-6570
 e-mail: jmcuish@msn.com